Creek Nation Announces Indian Fall Festival, 2nd Annual Native Made Art Festival

JENKS, Okla. – Muscogee Nation Business Enterprise and the Muscogee (Creek) Nation Tourism & Recreation Department will host an Indian Fall Festival and the 2nd Annual Native Made Arts Festival Nov. 1-2 at the RiverWalk Amphitheater.

The Indian Fall Festival was once a major event in Indian Country, but due to leadership changes within the participating tribes the momentum of the festival slowed down and eventually dissolved. With the guidance of Principal Chief George Tiger, the Muscogee (Creek) Nation will revive this major event and bring back its legacy.

The 2nd Annual Native Made Arts Festival is open to all federally recognized tribal artists who wish to display and sell their crafts in a festival setting.

Artist booth spaces are limited and free of charge. There will be more than 40 artists representing 10 federally recognized tribes.

This year's Indian Fall Festival will have something for everyone, including the Native Made Art Festival, live entertainment, a Gourd Dance and an exhibition stomp dance. Activities will be available for children of all ages including an art contest, inflatables and face painting.

This year, the Indian Fall Festival will include a Frybread Championship Cook-off. The entry fee is $50 and the winner of the event will receive $1,000 cash.

If you have attended the Indian Fall Festival in the past, there is no doubt you will want to come again. Please feel free to bring additional friends and family. There is no fee to attend and the Festival is open to the public.
