Good People

*"Through all the fits and starts, challenges and triumphs, we never doubted that good things would happen because there were, in every situation, enough good people to push or pull or argue us through to the next step."
- Louis Adams, Salish*

THANK YOU TO THE GOOD PEOPLE WHO ALWAYS GOT US TO THE NEXT STEP:

Here are the "Good People" who made tribal involvement in the Lewis & Clark Bicentennial possible and successful. We have undoubtedly left someone out and misspelled some names. Please know that your contribution was and is deeply valued. If your name is not on this list, but should be, starting in March 2010, you can go to www.lc-triballegacy.org and add yourself, or someone you know, to the ongoing list of Good People.

Experience Native America Along the Lewis and Clark Trail

Native Peoples have a complex relationship with the Lewis and Clark expedition. The stories of the tribes should be more than a backdrop to the Expedition, they are an integral part of the story of the United States. Lewis and Clark were seen as ambassadors to the tribes they encountered. They were instructed to gain the friendship and allegiance of the tribes for military and economic reasons.

One reason the tribes were so helpful to Lewis and Clark was because of Sacagawea, and her infant son Baptiste, who accompanied them. The Expedition passed through the historic territories of more than fifty Indian tribes and bands. Some tribes have moved away from the Trail, but still have an interest in their historic territories. Today, the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail crosses historic lands of over three dozen sovereign nations.

Visit Indian Country

You can visit many of the tribes Lewis and Clark met along the Trail. The Lewis and Clark Trail not only re-shines a light on key historical moments and tribal lands, but it also showcases the Tribes today. Visit tribal cultural centers, museums, restaurants, attractions and take part in cultural events where the public is invited. Learn about the history of the tribes that lived along the Trail before the Lewis and Clark Expedition and enjoy their tourism experiences available today.

Enough Good People

From 2003 to 2006, The Circle of Tribal Advisors worked together during the Lewis and Clark Bicentennial Commemoration in order to tell the American Indian story. This project expands on the groundwork, contributions and learnings from the Circle of Tribal Advisors and offers new opportunities for tribes to share their stories to visitors from around the globe through cultural tourism.

Experience Nez Perce National Historical Park

FEATURED

The Nimípuu people have always resided and subsisted on lands that included the present-day Nez Perce Reservation in north-central Idaho. Nez Perce National Historical Park has thirty-eight sites spread across Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington. It takes some planning to experience this story.

Tribes along the Columbia River

FEATURED

For centuries, Native Americans caught giant chinook salmon that struggled to make their way upstream through the rocky barrier of tumbling waters and swift, narrow channels of the Columbia River known as Celilo Falls, or Wy-am. Today Native Fishers continue to provide fish for their families and local restaurants.

Navajo Nation

Navajo Nation Information

Share | Add To Bucket List

Welcome to the Navajo Nation!

The Navajo Nation extends into the states of Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, covering over 27,000 square miles of unparalleled beauty. The Navajo Reservation is home to more than a dozen national monuments, tribal parks and historical sites, and is peppered with a dozen lakes and ponds - Lake Powell alone has 186 miles of Navajoland shoreline.

Here you can step back in time and see how the ancient ones - the Anasazi people - lived thousands of years ago. The Navajo Nation has an array of ancient ruins, including the world renowned Navajo National Monument and the tranquil Chaco Culture National Historical Park. From the towering formations of Monument Valley to the majestic red sandstone walls and lush green valley floor of Canyon de Chelly, this is a land of great contrasts. We invite you to discover Navajo.

Discover Native America: Pacific Northwest Tour - Part 1

Share Add To Bucket List

Day 1

Olympia / Shelton, Washington

Arrive early in Seattle, Washington and depart to the Evergreen State College Campus in Olympia, WA to visit the Longhouse Education and Cultural Center. "The House of Welcome" (sq'ig'ia'ix'w), was the first building constructed on a public campus that is based on Native American traditions that exists to provide service and hospitality to students, faculty, visitors and the surrounding Native Communities. It's primary functions are to provide a gathering place for hosting cultural ceremonies, classes, conferences, performances, art exhibits, and community events. After the tour travel west to Shelton, Washington to visit the "Home of Sacred Belongings" (k'edig's'at'w) - The Squaxin Island Museum Library and Research Center to explore the past and present stories of the Squaxin Island Tribe. There you can walk through the "Hall of the Seven Inlets" a permanent exhibit which depicts the relationship between the people and the seven watersheds of South Puget Sound, as well as, learn about the history, traditional legends and Native language. End your day by staying at the Little Creek Casino Resort, just 10 minutes away from the Squaxin Island Museum.
